Product Description

Nelson Luxury Plush is the newest expression of indulgence within the Elevate Collection, crafted for those who believe sleep should be as luxurious as it is restorative. With a plush feel and a deeper comfort profile, Nelson invites you to sink into softness, wrapped in elegance and supported by intelligent design.

It all begins with a precisely engineered spring system, developed by our team of experts and totally unique to Sealy. AlignSupport® is a two-stage coil design, sensing and responding to your individual shape as you sleep. As your body relaxes into the mattress, the springs sense your shape, maintaining your natural posture and spinal alignment. AlignSupport® then springs into action and applies the correct level of support, creating a feel that is completely personalised to you. On top of this, the springs are twice tempered making them even more resilient and durable.

Every Sealy Posturepedic is UniCased®. The proprietary keys lock into place for the ultimate stability, bringing structure to every point around your mattress, meaning that you benefit from a larger usable sleep surface. It also removes the “rolling off” feeling when you are asleep or getting ready for the day ahead. Sturdy and supportive, UniCased acts as the perfect seating edge for putting your socks or shoes on. BasePlank pulls everything together, it's a stable foundation that you can trust. Multiple air channels run across the bottom of the mattress, allowing air to run through the body of the sleep system with ease.

The ComfortCore® placed in the centre third of the mattress to target your hips and lower back for the ultimate pressure relief. Nelson Luxury Plush features a double layer of our very own InfiniLux® – a luxe, premium foam that offers resilience and sumptuous comfort. And that's not all, two more layers of Sealy Medium Foam provide that plush feel we all dream of.

It's not just our technology that makes us stand out from the rest, it's our style that makes an impact too. Behind each fabric is years of true expertise and know-how, each design unashamedly bold to add that first class feeling to your sleep space. Woven with SmarTex® and ProShield® technology to disperse heat away from the skin and provide a cooler and cleaner night's sleep. Endorsed by Allergy UK.

Handmade in Britain and backed by Sealy's 7-year guarantee, Nelson Luxury Plush is more than a mattress, it's a nightly retreat, a sanctuary of softness, and a celebration of craftsmanship.
